	Become Incorporated*: This is a requirement on all the funding programs that we have experienced. Whether it is an Ontario Corporation or Federal Corporation – it is a must. The other option is a CCPC structure as well.
	Secure Business Registration Number: It is very important that you have a Business Registration Number (BRN) and a Payroll Number before you start to generate revenue and apply for funding.
	Break Even Analysis: Determine your revenue targets and average $ sale needed from the business in order to break even, preferably conducted with a reputable accountant.
	Price Positioning Strategy: This activity can be conducted in conjunction to your break even analysis alongside an accountant. Building out a "what if" scenario on different options and combinations to reach Revenue and Gross Profit targets.
	Cash Flow Planning: To be conducted with an accountant or business mentor. It is important to determine when you will be cash flow positive and what your short- and long-term strategies are from that point onward. Examples: Will you be relying on equity for growth, taking a salary; do you have larger scale projects that demand resources which will affect your Cash Flow Positive Date?

As a small company, it is critical to plan and implement the priority activities that will fuel your company's sustainable growth and competitive advantage. Please also refer to Running Lean by Ash Maurya, a book outlining "how to iterate from Plan A to a Plan that works".

	SR&amp;ED Tax Credits: If your company conducts internal R&D practices, you can apply for research and development tax credits for these expenses.
